Your average teenager often gets accused of a lack of focus & drive but then Jimmy British is no average teenager. Having begun his musical journey at the tender age of twelve through spinning beats and crafting tunes, Jimmy is now seventeen and fronting his own label Hot Cake Music which launches this year with his debut single I.C.U.Girl also featuring fellow rapper & friend Whisper.

The track is a skankin' Hip Hop / Dancehall cross that introduces Jimmy British to the world with its heated lyrical suggestions over the 'dopest of Carnival riddims'.

In addition to the original Hip Hop cut, there's a House remix produced by the talented John Gould who's remixed many an artist including Gwen Staphanie and UK Garage act 187 Lockdown.

Throughout his life, Jimmy (of Nigerian descent) has been surrounded by music, with a reggae artist as a father and a record producer as an uncle, which gave him a firm understanding of the elements that make up a great record, as well an introduction to the many different genres of urban & club music ranging from African reggae though to British Hip Hop, RnB, Trance, Dubstep & Electronica.

Over the past five years (which includes a stint at the prestigious Brit Academy) Jimmy has been working on his production techniques and developing his own individual sound. His newly gained production skills and a love of song & rhythm then lead to the formation of Hot Cake Music, which Jimmy started with a view to releasing his own and other musician's tracks.

I.C.U Girl also features the rapper Whisper, who joined forces with Jimmy at the Brit Academy where they were both doing courses. Whisper began his musical journey in the rap-battle scene, but a few years down the line he came to realise there was more to rap than just dissing other MC's and started to turn it on its head. Since then he's developed his humorous signature style and now prefers being regarded as a storyteller, using beats and rhythm as the vehicle for his narrative.

Jimmy British and his label Hot Cake are on the up. It's down to you whether you want to start the journey with him or try to catch up further down the line.
