"He plays with the fury that has left Eric Clapton & Co"
Paul Jones - BBC Radio 2

Stephen Dale Petit's new single 7 Cent Cotton with its heavy guitar riffs & passionate vocal is to be released this May along with a deluxe edition of his album Guitararama. To promote the releases he's performing in the major UK cities & giving a series of Blues Master Class lectures at the Brit School & other Universities & Colleges.

Having cut his teeth in the clubs & bars of California playing alongside Blues legends BB King & Albert King, Petit decided to come to London, England & experience the environment in which British Blues luminaries Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, Jimmy Page & John Mayall grew up.

Whilst playing The Bedford, 100 Club & other London venues Petit caught the attention of Libertines producer & former Clash guitarist Mick Jones, Jack White of The White Stripes, Eric Clapton & Phil May, and has gone on to establish himself as a force to be reckoned with on the UK Blues circuit.

Determined to see the Blues restored to its former glory as a popular music form in the UK, Petit is spearheading the UK's New Blues Revolution & to hear more about his vision you can visit www.guitararama.co.uk & hear his commentary on the relevance of the Blues in today's British music scene.

The sound of Petit's New Blues experience is now captured on the 333 Records album Guitararama. The release has an underlying punk sensibility mixing experimentation with music inspired by Blues 'trailblazers' like Freddie King, Leadbelly, Charlie Patton and others.

Aside from the single 7 Cent Cotton, other key tracks are Surf City West 10 with its Pulp Fiction-esque guitar phrasing, the Carlos Santana inspired Told You So, & the "street poem" Better Answer.

"... huge, natural, instinctive inventiveness"
The Independent

"The best guitar player in Britain today"
Phil May, The Pretty Things

"It's Lovely" - Eric Clapton

"Guitararama will inspire you. Every track sounds like an anthem" - Blues Matters Magazine
